REPORT OF BOARD OF VISITORS.

The Board of County Visitors have filed their Annual Report with the Judge of the Probate Court as required by law. The Board is at present composed of the following members: Mrs. Mayme Cole, President; Mrs. Adelaide Hallett, Secretary; Mrs. Letitia Saxton, Dr. W. H. Maddox, W. L. Biddle, Dr. G. W. Hartmann. Following is the text of the report: We, the Board of County Visitors, have inspected the County Infirmary, the County Jail and the Municipal Lock-Ups as required by law and have found them to meet all requirements. The Board has held four meetings during the year as follows: January 22nd at the Infirmary; May 6th at the Infirmary and the Court House; September 10th at the Infirmary and at the Court House; November 26th, at the Infirmary and at the Court House.

At the meeting in May the President appointed the following committees: To visit the County Jail, entire Board. To visit the Municipal Lock-Ups, entire Board. To visit the Hospital; Dr. W. H. Maddox, Dr. G. W. Hartmann and Mrs. Saxton. Juvenile Court. Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Hallett and Dr. Maddox. Religious Services at Infirmary, Mrs. Saxton and Mrs. Hallett. On August 30th, the Jails at Fayette, Metamora, Lyons, Archbold, Delta and Wauseon were visited by Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Hallett. With one exception they were found to be in good condition. The jail at Lyons was not considered to be in a sanitary condition and the Marshal was recommended to have same attended to.

The State Conference of Charities and Corrections held at Dayton November 3 to 5 was attended by Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Hallett.

The Superintendent and Matron of the Infirmary, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Egan were faithful in the performance of the duties connected with an institution of this kind. Mayme C. Cole, Adelaide Hallett, Wm. H. Maddox, Dr. G. W. Hartmann, W. L. Biddle.

HE DID HIS SHARE.

How the Rich Man Changed His Mind

Anthony Schefold lived in Missouri and had made his money in copper and tin. He and worked hard from a boy on the drift up to the rank of foreman, then to superintendent and finally to owner. Schefold never worried him. His six foot giant frame had stood many hard knocks and was good for many more. A year ago in answer to a pretty girl who asked him to buy some seals to help the miners who had tuberculosis he replied gruffly: "Let 'em work and save. That's what I did when I was young and I've never been sick and have got enough to keep me now."

It was a different Schefold who approached the Red Cross Seal girl at one of the booths yesterday. In twelve months his daughter had been stolen away by the monster tuberculosis and his son, just entering from college, had been compelled to drop everything else in his search for health from this same disease. The doctor had said that the disease could be traced back probably to childhood, when his two children had been nursed by the consumptive daughter of a consumptive miner. The disease, disease breeding tenements in which the miner was compelled to live were owned by Schefold now. "I'd give my two-eyes and both legs and arms to have my daughter with me and my son restored to health," he confided to the Red Cross Seal girl. "I can't get away from the thought that my girl might be alive and my boy well if I'd given some attention to the prevention of this disease ten or fifteen years ago. Now it's too late for that, but I'll keep some of the seal and take it safe. Here, give me all the seals you've got and then go and get all you can find and charge them all to me. If money can make amends, which it can't, I'll do my share."

As the astonished girl handed over to him her entire supply of 20,000 seals and took his check in return she heard him mutter his daughter's name and repeat, "I'll do my share."

The course is read for all grades from the primary through the high school. Three books have been selected by the board of control for each grade. A certificate is given for each of the first three grades a pupil reads, and the diploma for the completion of any four grades.

No charge is made for certificate and seals. Bland diplomas will also be furnished free, and they may be engrossed for ten cents each.

The local circle is to be organized and conducted as seems most effective by the teacher. If the books are read at home, the teacher should take occasion to discuss them with the pupils.

The books, by grades, are as follows: FIRST GRADE Swann and Sherwood—Primer of nursery rhymes. Robinson—Behind big glass window. Wray—Little playmates.

SECOND GRADE Lucia—Peter and Polly in winter. Blaisdell—Pretty Polly Flinders. Mott and Church—Indoors and out.

THIRD GRADE Sinden—Nixie Bunny in Workaday-land. MacDonald—Princess and Curdie. Burgess—Mother West Wind's animal friends.

FOURTH GRADE Perkins—Irish twins. MacDonald—At back of north wind. MacDonald—Light princess.

Why You Should Use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Because it has an established reputation won by its good works. Because it is most esteemed by those who have used it for many years as occasion required, and are best acquainted with its good qualities. Because it loosens and relieves a cold and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Because it does not contain opium or any other narcotic. Because it is within the reach of all. It only costs a quarter. For sale by all dealers.

RED CROSS SEAL FUNDS

NOT FOR WAR RELIEF.

American Red Cross Director Urges Fund For Tuberculosis Prevention.

None of the proceeds from the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals, which are being sold widely throughout the United States for the benefit of the anti-tuberculosis movement, will be used for any relief purposes, according to a statement by Ernest P. Bicknell, National Director of the American Red Cross. Mr. Bicknell says: "The American Red Cross is deeply appreciative of the sympathetic interest which has inspired the suggestion from various parts of the United States that a certain percentage of the Red Cross Seal Sales Fund, which has been used for the last seven years exclusively for the prevention and treatment of tuberculosis in the United States, be expended this year to aid the European war sufferers. While the Red Cross is desirous of securing contributions which will increase this war relief fund, we do not feel justified in adopting any policy which will tend to cripple the tuberculosis work in this country, dependent as it is for support to so large an extent on the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals. The announcement that a percentage of the Red Cross Seal money would go to our war relief fund might possibly increase the sale; but, in our opinion, the final results would show a distinct loss in the part of the proceeds going for tuberculosis work."

"At the present time there are over 1,200 anti-tuberculosis societies distributed through nearly every state in the Union and even in Porto Rico, the Canal Zone and far off Hawaii, which are dependent almost entirely upon the receipts from the Red Cross Seal sale for their work during the year 1916. The people of the United States must support this local war against tuberculosis, which annually kills 200,000 people and at the present time is leaving a trail of a million wounded."

A STRANGER.

The writer of a letter to the Herald says: "Be not forgetful to entertain strangers for thereby some have entertained angels unawares." This advice should not be followed with all strangers.

A schemer, who has worked different parts of the state, was in Wauseon and vicinity recently. His plan is to come to a town, employ someone to drive him with a horse and buggy to make a hasty call, for the ministers and possibly some bankers or other business man. He carries a printed card which he always takes with him when he leaves the home, stating that owing to the failure of a large London firm an immense stock of carpets, silks and goods for pattern, which he says have been shipped to Cleveland or some other large city for sale.

He offers to furnish carpets made in rugs for homes at churches at a ridiculously low price. Also silk goods for dresses can be bought at about $1.50 for a dress. On both carpets and dress goods he carries only samples and selection is to be made from sample and the goods sent later. For these he takes no money. But when a way has been opened and interest aroused on these he incidentally remembers that he has in his buggy a few patterns of cloth for men's suits which if they can be used will be sold at a very low figure as the manager of the store has never been able to order in dress silks and carpets later and to collect for them when delivered. That is the last seen or heard of the agent. His samples and talk of carpets and dress goods was for the purpose of opening the way for the men's suit goods. While the goods look all right it is safe to say that any goods that must be sold in this way should be bought only by a man who is a judge of cloth. Either the man is getting a good big price on them or there is something crooked somewhere.

The man who was here said he was representing J. W. Moore & Company of London, England, which had failed. One of our ministers recognized the man's face and the name of the firm, as represented as being the same man called on him in another part of the state four years ago. When asked how often J. W. Moore & Company failed the man was somewhat puzzled and when told of having called with the same story and card in the other part of the state under another name of course he denied it but soon took his departure, being careful to ask for his business card as he went so that no trace be left behind.

Moral—There is no obligation to entertain a stranger who is rich enough to give away expensive carpets and silks; and in buying goods for suits men are safe in patronizing reliable business firms nearer home.

Thoreau.
